Nevada County Mine Payroll At New High

Miners at Work Total 2,094 With Monthly Payroll Over $266,000

The Nevada County Mine payroll has jumped again. Since the last report was published December 18, 175 more men have gone to work in the mining industry of the county, and the monthly payroll has advanced $266,000 an increase of $20,000 over the December report.

The table given below shows an increase in the number of miners now employed on several of the larger properteis, and also a number of the mines which have resumed activity, after years of abondonment.

The price of gold has been stepped up again and more investors are begining to open their eyes to the opportunity of profitable mining in Nevada County.

KEYSTONE DIVIDE MINING CO.

E. H. McMurray assisted by Mr. Campbell are preparing for active development of the Maynough ground west of Grass Valley. A small crew started work in the last few days. Mr. McMurray has just returned from a trip of several weeks in the east.

YOU BET MINING COMPANY

The force of men at the big You Bet Mining Company property, east of Nevada City, hah been doubled within the last few days, now employing 100 men. Piping continues on Brown's Hill and the long drift tunnel is progressing at a good rate.

FRENCH CORRAL MINE

Diesel engines are the latest equipment to be added to the machinery being taken to the French Corral gravel mine near French Corral. The company is also preparing to crush and wash cemented gravel with machinery recently installed. A truck load of oil was taken to the property Wednesday. B. W. Maddox is superintendent.

BULLION GOLD AND SILVER

The Bullion Gold and Silver company which took over mining property south of Grass Valley recently are making good progress in their work of reopening the property. Sampling of ore is being done as the work progresses. A. E. Jutila is in charge.

REMINGTON HILL PLACERS, INC.

A cleanup was made Wednesday night at the Remington Hill Placers which yielded a $70 nugget, and a quantity of smaller nuggets and coarse gold. It was he best cleanup made by the new company so far, and President Frank Crampton states that preparations were now well advanced for extensive mining. New and powerful equipment will be installed for operation under permit from the California Debris Commission.

Owing to the fact that Nevada County is regarded as one of the "white spots" on the map of the United States, a large number of unemployed men is being attracted here. While approximately 2100 men are steadily employed in Nevada County mines, there are hundreds of "rustlers" daily applying for employment at the mines who have absolutely no chance in the world for a job. This is a warning to those who have no means of subsistance NOT to come to Nevada County looking for employment.

WHOLESALERS PROTEST TAX ON OUTSIDE FIRMS

The City Council last evening gave a hearing to a number of protestants to the license ordinance now pending. Among others were:

Anderson called attention to the fact no law exists for the classification and amounts of taxes city councils may impose on outside concerns doing business in a municipality. He stated that the only method of adjustment now possible is that of sitting with city councils and arriving at a reasonable tax. He held that the levy of $15 per quarter imposed on trucking company's under the pending ordinance was too high and intimated that $10 per quarter would suit trucking companies much better. He ponted out that the trucks which are to be taxed, are from the wholesale houses which are supplying merchants and that ultimately the consumers of Nevada City would, in one form or another pay the tax.

What merchants usually desire is that peddlers, going from door to door shall be taxed at a high rate, but that they have no desire to tax wholesale houses which supply them their commodities by truck, at least, at any but a moderate rate.

Members of the city council cited the baking business. It was pointed out that four or five different companies were delivering bread in this city, whereas the bakery here, employed seven or eight persons who make their living here and help to build and make the community. It was intimated that by taxnig outside firms doing business here, and assuming no responsibility for maintainance of the city or any share in its cost of government, there would be a tendency for firms to establish themselves here and supply many of the commodities which are now hauled in by truck.

Jack Wolff, Standard Oil manager for this district, pointed out tha his company paid many hundreds of dollars in city and county taxes, that the company's many employees made their homes here, and that the company participated in practically all municipal activities. He stated that he would regret very much to see a tax of $15.00 per quarter imposed. He called attention to the fact that the Standard Oil Company was also the largest shipper on the Narrow Gauge Railroad.

The City Council took the plea of the wholesalers under consideration Some of them were inclined to think that a sharp line of demarcation should be drawn in the ordinance between wholesale firms supplying merchants with merchandise, and peddlers that sell from door to door, taking the money out of town, but spending very little while here.

California Mines, Payroll Show Big Increase In 1933

By WALTER W. BRADLEY

The field engineers of the State Division of Mines have reported to Walter W. Bradley, State Mineralogist, that every gold mining district in California showed greatly increased activity during the year 1933 as compared even with 1932 which recorded enlivened and renewed interest. Many old properties have been reopened and equipped, new producers added to the list, and large numbers of prospects are being developed.

A brief survey of these operations has been made and indicates a total of 514 mines and prospects added to those actively working, 3,119 men added to the payrolls, and an estimated $2,498,000 put into newly installed equipment, during the year just closed.

The above figures do not include the large numbers of individual prospectors scattered through the hills working on their own, nor the thousands panning and sluicing for gold along the streams. It would thus appear that there are approximately 8,000 men "on payrolls' in the gold mines of the state, and there have been some 15,000 or more small-placer seekers during the past season.

OTHER MINERALS ACTIVE

It is interesting to note that while gold mines and prospects are the outstanding recipients of this greatly increased activity and attention, there are also included some figures for certain other commercially valuable minerals of which California has such a long and diversified list. Included in the above are the following:

The Leviathan Sulphur Company, in Alpine county, has developed a large tonnage of high-grade sulphur and is installing a 100-ton steam retort. Shipments of sulphur, also have been started from the Crater deposit in the Last Chance Mountains, Inyo county. The Salton Sea Chemical Products Company, at Niland, Imperial county has one well producing nearly pure carbon dioxide gas, and will drill additonal wells preliminary to building a plant for the manufacture of "dry ice." The Dicalite Company has put in new equipment for handling diatomite from their deposit on the Palos Verdes Estate near Wilmington, Los Angeles county. Production has been resumed at the Kelly mine in the Randsburg district, San Bernardino county. This property a few years ago was the leading silver producer of the United States. The Sulphur Bank quicksilver mine near Lower Lake, Lake county, has reopened; also the Santa Rosa lead-silver mine, Keeler, Inyo county.

POWER SHOVELS AT WORK

In the gold mining districts the following items are worthy of note, selected from a list covering every section of the state from San Diego to Sikiyou and altogether too lengthy to quote in full here. In Shasta county, at the Russell mine, (gravel) the Western Constracting co., has put on a power shovel, trucks and a washing plant; the Mountain Copper Co., has increased the capacity of its gossan-treating cyanide plant to 700 tons daily. In Trinity county, the Brown Bear, Mason and Thayer, and Golden Jubilee mines are operating; at the Canyon placers near Dedrick, several miles of new ditch have been dug to furnish water for six hydraulic giants. In Lassen county, the Hayden Hill mine has reopened. In Siskiyou county, operations at the following mines are noted: New York, Oro Fino, Elliott, Cosul (Chinese), Quartz Hill, Matapan, Corbett, Gilta. In Plumas county: Wolfe Creek (power shovel), Mill Creek (power shovel), White Lily, Plumas-Sierra, Swiss (mill), Anno (mill), Four Hills.

NEVADA COUNTY

Nevada county is experiencing the nearest thing to a "mining boom" that California has seen for many years; a number of new ventures have been announced, and on several work has gone well forward. Among those reopening are such former producers as the Bullion, Brunswick, Zeabright, Canada Hill, Banner and Central Consolidated, (Lava Cap Company), Murchie, Hoge, Alcalde (Mattie Gold) and Spanish. A cyanide plant is being added to the metallurigical equipment of the Idaho-Maryland group.

Toadtown mine, near De Sabla, Butte county, equipped with 10-stamp mill. Placer county drift mines reopened include the Paragon at Forest Hill, and the Home Ticket at Last Chance. New or reopened work on the Mother Lode includes: Keystone in Amador county; the Beebe, Woodside-Eureka, Hart, Pyramid, in El Dorado county; Carson Hill, Calavaras county; Pine Tree and Josephine, Mariposa county.

On the East Belt, the Pioneer in Amador, and the Sheep Ranch in Calavaras. Other Mariposa county operations include a 50-ton Hadsel mill at the Doss mine, a 15-stamp mill at the Diltz, 50-ton unit at the Washington. In the southern counties are noted the following: Big Blue-Sumner, Amalie, Drunkard's Dream, King Solomon, in Kern county; Monarch Rand, Arlington, Mabel and Contention group, San Bernardino county; Sunrise, Gavilan, Good Hope, Riverside county; San Vicente Ranch Placer, North Hubbard, Ready Relief, San Riego county; Trio group, Golden Cross, Imperial county; Wilshire Bishop Creek, Burro, Radcliff, Inyo county; Sierra Vista, Standard, Log Cabin, Mono county.

As pointed out in the report of Clarence A. Logan, Sacramento District engineer of the Division of Mines, "a marked condition in the industry is the great number of undeveloped and unproved claims in regions where geologic conditions are favorable. With this, we have the timidtiy and unwillingness of well-financed interests to prospect properties unless some definite indications of ore-shoots have already been uncovered. The results, generally speaking, are that principally small companies are prospecting such claims, and well-financed mining companies are reopening old mines."

High school students and CWA workers are rapidly rounding the new athletic field at the high school into shape for use. Last Sunday another gravel hauling delegation appeared and brought more gravel for erecting a retaining wall.

INSURING BANK DEPOSITS

A short time ago a Federal business corporation received checks for about $100,000,000. It was the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation—the checks were premium charges to guarantee, for 6 months, deposits of $2,500 and less in the banks which accepted its offer. All of the 6,000 members of the Federal Reserve were automatically taken in—of the 9,000 non-members banks, close to 8,000 applied for the guarantee. The Corporation's potential liability is $40,000,000,000—its assets less than $500,000,000. Yet little fear is expressed for its solvency.

No Massachusetts savings bank applied for the guarantee; Connecticut savings banks were forbidden participation by the State Attorney; the Governor and Bank Superintendent of New Hampshire, which has had but one bank failure in 30 years, advised against joining on the grounds of expense. Elsewhere banks seemed eager for the most part to take advantage of the opportunity.

"SINGING IN THE STREETS

"In Colorado and Nevada," says Time in reporting President Roosevelt's decision to remonetize silver, "there was singing in the streets."

That single phrase does a good job of characterizing what the new policy means to the west. It means swelling payrolls, reopened factories, swelling trade. It means that some of the blackest and thickest of the depression clouds will be lifted. It means a happier day for merchants, farmers, professional men—everyone in the states involved. And the entire country will, through a sifting process, feel it too.

Senator Pittman, long the most persistent advocate of silver stabilization, believes that the world price of silver will be stabilized at 64½c, that United States' buying power will be increased by fifty per cent, that the exchange value of the moneys of China, India, Mexico and all South America will be increased 60 per cent with a consequent jump in their trade with us, that millions depending on mining will find prosperity and plenty. All of these things will not come true at once—but they are indicative of the possibiities.

PUBLIC DEBT BREAKS RECORDS

Associated Press dispatches of January 4, summarize the public debt of the United States, as follows:

"August 31, 1929, the war peak, $26,596,701,648.

"The 1930 post war low, $16,185,309,831.

"Today's public debt, $23,817,036,025.

"Estimated for June 30, $29,847,000,000.

"Estimated for June 30, 1935, $31,834,000,000.

"The amount of money in circulation, save for some governmental funds for which no accounting can be made, totaled only $5,791,000,000 on January 3, 1934."

At 3 per cent, interest on public debt in 1935, will be nearly $1,000,000,000 a year.

ORE SHOOT IN HUSSEY PROVED FOR 300 FEET

West Mines Corporation reports continued good developments at its Hussey mine, situated two and one half mines north easterly from Nevada City. The ore shoot developed at the bottom level of the shaft at a depth of only 130 feet now has a proven length of almost 300 feet. A small portion of the shoot has been stoped and the entire length of the shoot is being opened by raises in order that it may be stoped in the future. The raises have proven some most interesting facts with regard to ore occurrence and show that the Hussey vein, in common with many others of the district, shows to best advantage over a large cross-section. While the management of West Mines were well pleased with the appearance of the vein as exposed in drifting operations, the conditions as exposed in stoping are much more encouraging and indicate a considerably greater tonnage per foot of vein area than indicated by the drift.

Ore mined in development at the Hussey plus that being stoped above the level is being treated at the company's mill which is situated about a mile West of Nevada City on the Downieville highway. Enough ore is being sent to the mill to run it half time or more and a thorough test is being had of the process needed for ultimate treatment of the ore in large tonnage. In addition, West Mines Corporation is handling test and custom lots for other operators and the increasing demand for this type of service is a good indication of the increased activity in gold mining. Despite the still limited nature of the operation at the Hussey, the mine is more than carrying its operating costs and gives all promise of becoming an important producer with further development. Work at the mine is being increased in scope as quickly as physical conditions at the mine will permit.

West Mines is preparing for an early, vigorous campaign of new development at its Canada Hill mine, which is situaied some two miles south of Nevada City. At this property the old shaft has been unwatered, and repaired to its bottom at 1450 feet. It is completely equipped for operation. The old time record of the mine shows a production well over a millfon dollars. West Mines contemplates further development of the vein which produced the ore mined in the past and more important still in its plans is the development of the large unexplored St. Louis Vein, which is the main objective of the work now being started. Drills should be at work on this effort by or before January 20th after which time it will be pushed two shifts in reaching and drifting upon the St. Louis vein. Due to the prominence of this vein at surface, it is expected that it will develop fully as well as the Murchie, the Empress and several other of the larger and more recently proven veins in the Nevada county area.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Corcoran of Sacramento have returned to Sacramento after a visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Corcoran of Town Talk, and his sister Mrs. Jack Nolan of Nevada City.

Mrs. H. B. Wright and son Billie, accompanied by Mrs. Larson and son, Jim Nankervis, motored to the bay region for a few day's visit. Mrs. Wright visited her mother and Mrs. Larson spent some time with her husband who is employed there.

American Heroines

By LOUISE M. COMSTOCK

Deborah Sampson

IN THE days before the beach pajama and the shorts, the woman who donned masculine attire let herself in for serious consequences. Deborah Sampson, whose adventurous soul rebelled against the narrow background to which she was born, dressed herself up as a man and found herself fighting the American Revolution!

In 1778, when the Revolution was well under way and the army was sorely in need of recruits, Deborah was a vigorous girl of eighteen. She spun and wove a length of suiting, took it to a tailor and ordered him to make up a suit for a fictitious brother. Then, in her new clothes, Deborah set out on the highway of adventure.

On May 13, when a new detachment of fifty American soldiers arrived at West Point, there was among them a slender young infantryman named Robert Shurtleff, who carried his gun awkwardly and had fainted with weariness on the hard two weeks' march to the post.

Presently our heroine found herself in Captain Webb's company of light infantry, equipped with a French fusee, knapsack, cartridge box and thirty cartridges, handsome in a new uniform, blue coat lined with white, white waistcoat, breeches and stockings, and a jaunty red plumed hat. Side by side with her comrades at arms she fought at Tarrytown, White Plains and at Yorktown. Her greatest difficulties were the attention of infatuated women, and the danger of exposing her sex. She was once unceremoniously knocked down by a jealous sergeant who accused her of stealing his girl. She claimed to have had smallpox and risked contracting the disease rather than expose herself to vaccination, and she endured in silence the agony of a wound on her thigh, and bore its results the rest of her life, rather than submit to medical attention. At length, in Philadelphia during the summer of 1783, she fell victim to a fever, was thought dead, and her sex was discovered when the doctor felt for her heartbeat. The doctor kept his knowledge a secret.

Deborah was discharged from the army the following fall, married a young farmer named Benjamin Gannet, and bore him three children, who lived to share in the pension awarded her by the government in 1831.

CALIFORNIA GETS BIG SHARE OF FOREST FUNDS

Road and school funds amounting to $110,580, representing 25 per cent of the receipts for timber, grazing privileges, land rentals and other uses of the national forests of California, have been forwarded by the U. S. Treasury to this State for distribution to the counties in which the national forests are located. The total amount, the largest to any State, is apportioned among the counties according to the proportionate amount of the county areas within the national forests.

According to U. S. Regional Forester S. B. Show, this annual return, made in lieu of taxes to 31 states and Puerto Rico, is somewhat larger than last year but still below the amounts returned up to 1930, owing to the curtailment of lumbering and the reduction in sales of government stumpage and the reduction in fees charged for grazing privileges on the national forests.

An additional $44,232, representing 10 per cent of the receipts, will be available to the Forest Service for the construction of minor roads and trails within the national forests.

JUNIPER EXTRACT

Noticing that such big game animals as elk, deer and antelope browsed with apparent pleasure on the juniper trees in national forests, a scientist made a chemical analysis and found that the juniper had a surprisingly high food value. Foresters believe that there must be some relation between gin, juniper and wild life.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Thomas and Mrs. Stevens of Nevada City spent last Sunday visiting with the latter's grandson, Lloyd Stevens and wife in Alleghany.

IDAHO MARYLAND TAILINGS PLANT TO OPEN MARCH 1

The Idaho-Maryland Mines company is making rapid progress with their work on preparations for reworking the mine tailings. Both buildings for the new tailings plant and cyanide plant are completed and at present the company is installing the machinery for the tanks in the cyanide plant. It is planned to start this work by March first.

The new Brunswick shaft is unwatered to the 900 foot level which now connects with and unwaters to the bottom of the old Brunswick shaft. The new Brunswick shaft will be unwatered in a few days and it will be only a short time until this old producer will be in production again.

A couple of weeks ago a cap broke in the lower workings of the Idaho-Maryland mine, letting down a set of timbers. The 18 men on this level were delayed an hour and a half in repairing the break. The fall of debris did not impair the air lines and the men were in no danger. These men were sinking a winze that is to give a two way entrance to this part of the mine at all times.

A safetly engineer from the State Industrial Accident Board in San Francisco could not locate the break, and after being shown, made no recommendations.

The Idaho-Maryland mine company now employs 350 men.

AUTO STOLEN MONTH AGO, IS RECOVERED

Sheriff George Carter Wednesday recovered a car belonging to Mrs. Ann Surla, stolen December 12 from its parking place on Broad street. The car, among other things contained a stock of groceries, which were gone when discovered on a little used road leading to the Colgate powerhouse on the Middle Yuba river. It is surmised that gold panners took the car for a ride back to their diggings and for grocery supplies.

American Heroines

By LOUISE M. COMSTOCK

Anne Royall

ARMED with umbrella and the packet of books she offered for sale, an active tongue, an astonishing vocabulary and the courage of her own convictions, Anne Royall was a striking and in many ways a heroic figure in the Washington of the early days of the Republic, of whom congressmen stood in awe and whom social leaders, at least to her face, addressed with respect.

During the Revolutionary war, when Anne was still a little girl, she was captured by the Indians, and lived with them for fifteen years. When she was at length set free she married Capt. William Royall, a wealthy, and eccentric landholder. When the captain died, his property, willed to Anne, was nevertheless awarded to other relatives at the end of a long and bitter lawsuit. Penniless, and fifty-four years old, Anne set out for Washington to claim a pension as widow of a Revolutionary officer.

In this extremity, Anne sought to forget her troubles by setting down her impressions and views. During a winter in Alexandria, she compiled them into her first book, "Sketches of History, Life and Manners in the United States." In the spring she continued to Washington, met President Adams, and set out on a difficult journey through Pennsylvania, New York and New England to collect advance subscriptions for it and material for further writings. The book was published in New Haven, in 1826, and sold "faster than the binder could cover the copies." Followed four more books, in which Anne drew lively and not always flattering pictures of the personages of the day and aired her distaste for certain political movements with such effect that her enemies eventually called out a band of small boys to stone her house and had her indicted as a "common scold" and fined $10.

The next year, afire with indignation, the sixty-two-year-old woman purchased an old printing press, and with the aid of a journeyman printer set herself up as editor and main contributor to Washington's earliest scandal sheet, a small weekly called at first the "Washington Paul Pry" and later "The Huntress." Anne became the watchdog of congress. No piece of corrupt legislation, no hint of political injustice but found its way to her famous columns.

RELIEF HILL AND OMEGA JOIN IN MINING DIST.

The Nevada County Supervisors have taken preliminary steps in the formation of a mining district to be known as the Black Canyon Placer District, embracing Relief Hill and Omega, near Washington, Nevada county. The next step before an order for the district's formation can be granted will be the preparation of a report by County Surveyor J. F. O'Connor.

The Black Rock Canyon Placer District is being former by W. H. Taylor, a trustee, who represents the Relief Hill Mining Company, and by Arthur W. Hoge, Nevada City, and Frank C. Hoge of Palo Alto, who are trustees representing the Omega Development Company.

This district has been formed for the purpose of putting in a dam for the storage of debris, under the supervision of the California Debris Commission, and which will be used jointly by the two operating compaines .

Provision is made under the hydraulic act whereby anyone else can use this storage by paying a certain amount per yard and which is regulated by the California Debris Commission.

Plans and specifications are being drawn for the purpose of the construction of this concrete dam, and the parties who are the head of the district expect to build it during the early part of the year 1934.

For the time being, in order to operate on a moderate scale, some smaller dams have been put in by the Omega Company, under the supervision and approval of the California Debris Commission.

There are 2,300 acres in this property. Hoge Bros. and a few close friends are sole owners of the property, with no stock sold, and none to be offered for sale.

During the last few months, the company used a total of 700,000 feet of lumber in putting existing flumes in condition and in building new ones. New ditches, reservoirs and a large amount of new pipe line and monitors have been put in shape for operation in a short time. An electric plant has been installed which lights the entire diggings and camp.

The buildings on the property are modern and include dwelling houses, bunk houses, boarding house, tool and shop buildings and office. Eighteen men are employed.

COUNTY RECORDS ARE RESTORED BY CWA

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—The Civil Works Administration program has made it possible for several communities of the state to preserve its records which otherwise might have been lost.

In Calexico the records which had been literally thrown into the state's vaults since 1908 have been salvaged and are being placed in an orderly condition. According to reports received at CWA headquarters here, this work was started just in time to prevent destruction of the records by termites.

The City of Calexico, handicapped by the lack of funds, was unable to keep its records in an orderly condition. Inauguration of the Civil Works program made it possible for that community government to obtain sufficient financial help to rebuild its files.

A sililar work was made possible in Redding for the Shasta County Hisotrical Society. At the suggestion of the Redding Business and Professional Women's Club, the Historical Society applied for CWA funds to make possible the assembling of complete historical exhibits while others, principally stenographers, are interviewing pioneer residents to obtain stories of pioneer life in that section of the state.

One of the principal tasks of county Civil Works Administrators has been to find suitable work for women clerical workers who have been unemployed during the past years. Captain Edward Macauley, State Civil Works Administrator, has suggested that similar projects might be considered in other counties, particulary in the small communities.

PLANES HELP PROTECT CALIFORNIA FORESTS

One hundred and fifty-eight flying hours on forest fire patrol, more than for any other forest region, were recorded by airplanes used by the U. S. Forest Service in California during the summer of 1933 in scouting forest fires and as aids in the ground lookout system. A large part of the total hours was in scouting work in northern California when drift smoke from the great Tillamook fire in Oregon last summer rendered the national forest lookout system useless. Planes were furnished by two commercial companies located in Palo Alto and Burkank under contract to send out ships on call from the Forest Service.

For all national forests in the country planes flew 498 hours in forest fire control work, transported 971 forest officers and fire fighters and carried 164,390 pounds of emergency equipment and supplies.

TAPS SOUND FOR HERO OF THE WORLD WAR

Funeral services for the late John Tressider, who passed away Monday morning at his rooming house, are to be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from Holmes Funeral Home.

Interment is to be made in Pine Grove cemetery with Rev. Charles Washburn and the American Legion conducting the services.

He is survived by his sister, Mrs. George Danos and a brother, R. Tressider, of Round Mountain, Nevada.

John Tressider, who had been sent "over the top" seven times in the late war, was badly gassed. He had been ill for some time, but few realized how serious his condition was. It is reported an ambulance was sent up Tuesday to take him to a bay hospital and found he had died.

PONDEROSA WAY, 800 MILE FIRE BREAK, BUILDING

The world's largest fire break extending 800 mlies along the lower timber line of the Sierra from Shasta county on the north to Tulare county on the south, is taking shape today as a creation of the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Ponderosa Way it is called, after the yellow pine that grows in the area. It will be a combination fire break and motorway affording quick transportation for trucks and men in the event of fires in the lower elevations of the mountains.

EFFECTIVE BARRIER

State Forester M. B. Pratt points out that most fires which menace California timber lands during the long, rainless summer originate in the lower brush lands and then sweep up the hillsides, and that Ponderosa Way will be an effective barrier to the flames.

The fire trail ranges from 100 to 150 feet in width, winding along the 2,000-foot elevation of the mountains and fire fighters can make an effective stand to stay the brush blazes from spreading to the mountain timber stands.

Ponderosa Way, which Pratt states puts California's forest-protection program ahead by ten years, will be a monument to the New Deal and the industry of the CCC.

Linked with this project is a visibility survey to determine whether the federal and state lookout stations are located at the most advantageous spots.

MINING

IOWA HILL MINE

Six men are employed in the Iowa Hill mine, east of Nevada City, where they are developing orebodies in the 1200 foot tunnel. Gilmore brothers and associates are organizing a company to raise money for new machinery to crush the ore now being extracted.

SAILOR FLAT MINE

H. J. Burkhart, of the Sailor Flat mine, east of Nevada City, in the Quaker Hill district, has thirteen men employed at the mine repairing ditches and relaying pipe lines. Everything will soon be in shape for the winter.

ANCHO-ERIE MINE

A small crew is working the lower tunnel of the Ancho-Erie while at the Rocky Glen mine, on the same property, a compressor unit has been installed in the Spotswood tunnel, Both mines are in the Eureka district near Washington. Winter supplies were taken in last fall and electricity was brought to the property recently. A. E. Barnhart is superintendent. Good values are being recovered.

SPANISH MINE

At the Spanish mine, four miles north east of Washington, the 50 ton mill is running three shifts and the crew is working two shifts in the mine. The ore being mined comes from a shoot a mile and a half above the old workings and the tramway put up last fall is used to bring the ore to the mill. J. C. Bennetts is superintendent of the Spanish mine.

EMPIRE-STAR MINES

The Empire-Star Mines Company, Ltd., according to statistics, produced more than 100,000 ounces of gold last year. The Grass Valley Nevada City district continued as the leading gold producing area in the state with this mine as the only one to produce over the above amount.

ROUND MOUNTAIN CHAMPION

The Round Mountain Champion group of claims, north of Nevada City about three miles, was recently bonded to Los Angeles men, who have four men employed at present. The 160 foot shaft has been unwatered and cleaned out to the 100 foot level. A company is to be formed in order to buy new machinery to sink the shaft. Lyman Gilmore and several Nevada City business men own the property, with E. M. Major as superintendent.

McDONALD TAILINGS

Cash Cook and associates are now putting in a regrinding plant which is to regrind the tailings. This new equipment is in addition to the flotation and concentration plant. Fifteen men are now employed at the property.

SAN JUAN MINE

A crew of nine men are now engaged in taking out 150 tons of ore a month at the San Juan mine, north of North San Juan. The old shaft is 400 feet deep but the new company is now below the 200 foot level. At present a winze is being sunk in the mine. C. J. Lyser is superintendent.

EMPRESS

Thirty-eight tons of concentrates were shipped from the Empress mine in the Newtown district, west of Nevada City, during the month of November. Estimates place the value of returns at $12,000. Ore is being mined at different levels in the shaft on this large property. The mine has a bright future. Forty men are employed under Superintendent E. C. Jacobs.

TELEGRAPH MINE

John Sheedy and associates, after two months of intensive investigation and examination, have decided that the Telegraph mine, near Downieville, justifies development. The next two months are to be spent in getting the mine in shape for development and by April first, the company expects to employ between 12 and 15 men.

In making an examination of the mine, Sheedy has employed Edward E. Barker of Nevada City, Chas. S. Haley and B. C. Austin of San Francisco. Austin is a Nevada county boy and the son of Mrs. Ella M. Austin of this city, County Superintendent of Schools. Mr. Austin has a high reputation among mining men as an engineer.

CANADA HILL MINE

Plans are to put a crew to work in the Canada Hill mine shortly and run a crosscut to the St. Louis vein which is in virgin territory. O. McCraney is superintendent for the West Mines Corporation, which has bonded the property.

MOHAWK MINE

Byron Eastman, superintendent of the Mohawk mine in the Gold Flat district south of Nevada City, has a crew of eight men working two shifts, drifting and prospecting on a small vein. The drift is in 100 feet from the bottom of the 200 foot shaft.

HOGE DEVELOPMENT CO.

A large motor burned out at the about a week ago, which laid off the men for a couple of days. As soon as repairs were made, normal operations were resumed at once. The 75 ton mill and mine are being operated two shifts. Ore is being mined at the 600, 800 and 1000 foot levels. This mine and the Lava Cap are the only two mines in this district that possess three compartment shafts. A. M. Hoge is superintendent of the Hoge Mnie.

Mrs. Pinckney Armstrong, whose husband passed away recently, is to leave next Monday for the bay district where she is to enter Letterman's hospital for care.

WHO WILL BE QUEEN OF SKI CLUB BALL

Plans are going forward at splendid rate for the big Sierra Snow Ball to be held at the Nevada City-Grass Vallley Ski Club lodge on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway Saturday and Sunday, February 3 and 4th.

Eight young ladies of Nevada City and Grass Valley have entered the contest for queen. They are the Misses: Beth Steger, Thelma Boreham, Iva Millert, Peggy Hoffman, Elsie Gregor, Nancy Tritch, Virginia Findlay and Catherine Parsons.

Complimentary coupons are to be presented by the merchants of the Twin Cities which count 100 votes for each coupon for the Sierra Snow Queen.

Those desiring to enter the contest can do so up to Jan. 21, by clipping the 1000 vote Application blank appearing in this morning's Nugget, on Page 5, filling it out nad leaving it at the Nugget office on Broad St., or at the office of Glen DeYoe at Brete Harte Inn, Grass Valley.

LAVA CAP MILLS 100 TONS A DAY

The Lava Cap mill is crushing ore steadily which is being mined in the Central shaft. Some ore is also being taken from the Banner shaft, two miles away and trucked to the mill over a macadamized road built by the company. The company will soon be crushing 100 tons of ore daily. Within two months the company expects to mill 200 tons per day.

The loss of their dry or change house early Monday morning, delayed operations one day or two shifts, as a temporary structure was constructed at once. The loss of two dry houses within the last few months by fire has been a considerable loss to the company as well as the men employed at the mine. Rebuilding of the dry house will start at once.

The Lava Cap is running two shifts and employing 110 men. O. E. Schiffner is superintendent.

GOLD BOOTLEGGERS BUSY ALONG BORDER

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The bootlegging of gold is apparently giving former liquor bootleggers good profits. An arrest was made on the Canadian border, which is believed to indicate that gold smugglers recently have carried $1,000.000 worth of the precious metal out of the United States. The situation of the gold prices is unique in history, and threatens to develop countless bootleggers of the yellow metal into foreign countries.

Under the present law the assay offices and the mints cannot pay more than $20.67 an ounce for gold, while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is buying gold daily for almost twice this price. Secondary gold recovered from old gold and scrap is not purchased by the government at the higher price, and actually is glutting the market. The gold in both cases has exactly the same purity and is as good as gold. By bootlegging this secondary gold into foreign countries, where an open gold market exists, an enormous profit is realized which makes the old-fashioned bootlegging of liquor seem trifling by comparison.

LAST RITES FOR JUDGE F. T. NILON

With St. Canice church filled with the many friends of the late Judge Frank T. Nilon, the Rev. Father O'Rielly Wednesday morning conducted the impressive ritual for the dead reciting a high requiem mass.

Great floral pieces and masses of bloom bore mute witness to the grief of the entire community over the passing of one of Nevada City's most eminent citizens. Father O'Riley delivered a splendid tribute to Judge Nilon praising his high character as an attorney, Judge and man. Mrs. Lyda Talbot sang two selections during the service.

The remains were laid in the Pine Grove cemetery beside those of his son, Frank M. Nilon, whose untimely death in an automobile accident, caused the father suffering until his death. The Rev. Charles Washburn of the Trinity church conducted the service at the grave.

In memory of the fact that Frank T. Nilon was in the first graduating class of the Nevada City high school and had later been a teacher in the Nevada City schools, the high school closed in respect to his memory Wednesday morning.

Pall bearers were: active—P. G. Scadden, S. Lee Leiter, J. F. Colley, E. J. N. Ott, George H. Calanan, and Dr. C. W. Chapman; honorary— M. Van Berg, Thomas Coan, George W. Starr, Fred W. Nobbs, Judge Raglan Tuttle, Judge George H. Jones and E. H. Armstrong.

The services were under the direction of the Holmes Funeral Home.

'Fan Dances' Into Films

From a World Fair sideshow to Hollywood in less than six months—that's the meteoric career of Sally Rand, above, who entertained Fair visitors early this year with her now widefamed "fan dance." She just has been awarded a movie contract.

Civic Club To Hear Dramatic Reading

The Woman's Civic Club of Nevada City is preparing for a social night, Monday evening, January 22, at Brand's Studio.

They will have with them Mrs. Carolyn Simon of Placerville, who is giving a reading: "Dinner at Eight." Mrs. Simon will be remembered here as Carolyn Rudolph, as she lived here when a little girl with her parents who were Nevada county pioneers. Mrs. Simon was on the theatrical stage for some time. At present she is giving readings before the clubs of the district and comes here highly recommended.

A social time and refreshments will bring to a close the meeting which is being looked forward to with pleasant anticipation. Each member is permitted to bring a guest.

Charles Hegarty came down from the Snow Point mine, north of Nevada City, the latter part of last week for a short stay in this city.

The many friends of W. B. Celio are glad to see him about again after being confined to his home a few days with illness.

SHERIFF HOST TO NORTHERN CALIF. PEACE OFFICERS

Sheriff George R. Carter of Nevada City acted as host and toastmaster to over 50 peace officers from over Northern California who gathered in the upper banquet room of the National hotel for a dinner and discussion of their problems.

Hadley, of Auburn; Chas Dolce, Loomis, District Attorney J. M. McMahon and Sheriff Dewey Johnson, both of Downieville, Sierra county.

Toasts were made after the dinner and the afternoon was spent discussing the major problems that confront peace officers of today.

Pomenah Council Postpones Installation

Ponemah Council, Degree of Pocahontas met last Monday evening in the Armory hall and owing to so much illness, the installation ceremonies, of raising of chiefs, was postponed until a later date.

After much deliberation and discussion it was decided to hold meetings in Pythian Castle hereafter. The next meeting will be held Monday, February 5th.

It is hoped that the raising up of the elected and appointed chiefs can take place on that date.

A committee was appointed to prepare a feast.

Judge George L. Jones, Fred Arbogast, Dr. A. A. Arbogast, of the bay region were among those who attenede the funeral of the late F. T. Nilon.

Miss Margaret Blanchard and Alvin Flemming of Sacramento visited Miss Florence Genasci Sunday.

BENNETT BURNED WHILE SAVING ZEIBRIGHT BOOKS AND OTHER PROPERTY

Ellsworth Bennett, superintendent of the Zeibrigt Mine, in Bear Valley, was brought to Nevada City Wednesday, where Doctor W. W. Reed dressed his hands and arms for severe burns received Wednesday when fire destroyed the boarding house, dry room and bunkhouse on the Zeibright property and left the camp without provisions or firewood. The crew of about 20 men was brought to Nevada City and Grass. The Zeibright is a property of the Empire Star interests.

The Zeibright is virtually isalated by snow, making communications difficult. Officials had planned to operate the mine during the winter in spite of the snow, but Wednesday fire put them out of commission for the time being.

Clothing, money, checks, watches and other personal eects of the men were destroyed. Some of the men were forced to borrow clothing to come to Nevada City and Grass Valley.

The Mine officials say present weather conditions might permit the immediate erection of new buildings, but heavy snows, may hold the mine idle until Spring.

BASKETEERS OF U. C. AND G. V. IN HOT GAMES

The Nevada City high school C and D teams had a lively game Wednesday evening with Grass Valley teams of the same classes in the latter's gymnasium.

On the D team were Dick Tuttle, Julio Pasquetti, Ray Worthley, Carl Tobiassen, and Rob Graham. Tuttle played an outstanding game for the D team, which won 7 to 6.

The C casaba artists consisted of Ike Elliott, center; Bob Schiffner and Ray Wilde, forwards, and Jackhammer Mooser and Harley Leete, guards. The score was 18 to 14 in favor of Grass Valley. Wiley King and Richard Marriott were substitutes.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Armstrong were recent visitors in the Capital City on business and pleasure.

Non-Spill Cycle

You don't have to be an expert motorcyclist to ride the vehicle shown above being demonstrated by Dorothy Standley of Chicago. A wooden, rubber-cushioned base keeps the vehicle from tipping over, and does away with the possibility of damage through collisions.

NARROW GOUGE PUTS ON NEW ENGINE AND... DELAYS MAILS AGAIN

Hurray! The Narrow Gouge has put on a new engine, and that is why all the mails were late yesterday. To hire a truck for a couple of bucks and trot the mails up to Nevada City on time did not occur to the Narrow Gouge tycoons. No sir—save the money and let Nevada City folk wear out their shoes running for the mail. Of course a new engine, just like a new auto needs a lotta breaking in, while Nevada City people are already broken in to late mails. Maybe the mail comes today and maybe not. It's a sporting proposition.

Last winter no mails came for 3 days while the old engine, (thank heaven for the new one this winter) butted the snow drifts. It occured to nobody in the management to load the mails on a truck and bring 'em in. "No siree, we'll bust through with the bantam engine or blow up trying." It's the same old game again. While the new engine is being trained in the ways of the Narrow Gouge, trained to stop and switch freight at Town Talk and trained not to go galavanting downhill when the crew isn't looking, and trained to tread tenderly on the rust streaks that guide it deviously hither, Nevada City business men, lovers sweethearts, husbands, wives, sons and daughters, can wait, and like it or lump it, for their mail.

LOCAL GRAMAR SCHOOL MAY OPEN MONDAY

Owing to sickness, bad colds, measles and other illness among the students in the Washington school, Monday's session resulted in another adjournment for the rest of the week. It is hoped to reopen the school Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hoffman, of Berkeley, came up to attend the funeral of Mrs. Hoffman's uncle, Judge F. T. Nilon last Wednesday.

FAST WORK ON CITY'S AIRPORT

The flat top of Cement Hill ridge, Nevada City's new airport, is getting flatter every day. Forty-four CWA men were at work yesterday under the direction of City Engineer Ed Uren, and two tractors were bulldogging trees and brush, mostly brush, off the area of between 150 and 200 acres, at a rapid rate. More men will be employed as fast as they can be used advantageously.

Columns of smoke rising, like the old Indian signal fires, attested yesterday to the big cleaning the top of the Cement Hill is taking.

Capt. Doolin, head of the Pacific Division of U. S. Aviation with headquarters at San Francisco, accompanied by Capt. Shields yesterday inspected the airport site and gave directions about several features of its development. They were accompanied by Mayor R. J. Bennetts, chairman of the local airport committee, through whose quick enegetic action in acquiring title to the necessary acreage enabled the city to accomplish its dream of long standing, and to take advantage of the opportunity to employ CWA men in its accomplishment. Fred M. Miller, in charge of the county CWA projects has bent every effort in cooperation with the airport committee.

SEVEN MICE IN GOLD RUSH TO LAVA CAP

If either the Baker Hamilton Pacific company or the railroad company try to collect charges on seven small gray mice, the Lava Cap Gold Mining Corporation office force are determined to be as firm as the consignee in "Pigs is Pigs."

The box was labeled "Pipe Fittings" from Baker Hamilton Pacific Company, but when the Lava Cap stock man opened it he found something he was quite sure hadn't been ordered, and equally sure there was no need for around a mine. It blinked its beady little eyes at him and scrambled over the side of its good ship, Box. Another peered out from the shadow of an ell; and way down among the pipe fittings lay five tiny, newborn babies, quite unhurt.

The box had been tumbled off the end of the truck and tipped over end for end on its way to the store room. But apparently a revolving maternity ward was all in the day's work for Marco Polo the Mouse and his mate.

E. J. and Frank S. Morgan, of San Francisco, came up to attend the funeral of their late brother-in-law, F. T. Nilon.

NEVADA CITY HOOPSTERS PLAY GRANT HI TONIGHT

Nevada City's A and B muskmellon bouncers are to play the Grant Hi A and B boys tonight at Redmen's hall.

Ray Steger, Bill Polkinghorn, Winton Whitney, Harold Lopez, Mr. Dick Stevens, Merv Doolittle and Gene Thomas will probably see service on the B squad although no final announce ment has been made.

Carl Steger, Gove Celio, Bob Tamblyn, Ralph Pierce, Fred Browning, Lloyd Haddy and Rornan Roznski will probably be in action with the A team. A good game promises.
